

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

PREFACE

CONSIDERED from the point of view of the collector of book rarities, the auction season, the record of which appears in this volume, has been a comparatively uneventful one. The selections here included have been taken from something over 80,000 lots described in 119 catalogues. This is a considerable falling off from the record for the season of 1903. The New York sales have all been held by the Anderson Auction Co. who have had almost regular sales five days each week throughout the season, the first taking place on September 28, 1903, and the last on June 17, 1904. The Boston and Philadelphia auctioneers do not, either of them, hold daily sales, though both have supplied their usual important quota towards the total of our record.

Perhaps the most characteristic feature of the season was the unusual number of expensive subscription books (so-called) which have been thrown (and this seems to be the proper word to use) upon the auction market. The greatest collection of this sort ever sold was the "magnificent" library of Howard T. Goodwin, which was sold by Mr. Henkels in three sales, Part I, October 22, 23, and 24; Part II, November 12, 13, and 14; and Part III, December 10, 11, and 12, 1903.

The three Goodwin catalogues were illustrated with a number of reproductions of bindings in colors, probably the finest ever appearing in any American auction catalogue.

Another remarkable library of subscription limited editions was that of the Hon. Jacob Ruppert, Jr., which was sold by Anderson, on January 27.

The library of the late Jonas H. French, of Boston, sold by Libbie & Co., on February 23, 24, and 25, was also largely of this character. Included with it, however, was a long series of first-class items from the library of L. H. Chubbuck, Esq., a well-known collector of Boston. Among Mr. Chubbuck's books were a few items of early Americana which were, all things considered, the best books sold during the season. These included such titles as the following:

Budd's "Good Order Established in Pennsylvania and New Jersey," 1685.

Castell's "Discoverie of the Coasts and Continent of America," 1644.

Eliot's "Indian Bible," Second Edition, 1680-85.

Foxe's "Northwest Fox," 1635.

James' "Strange and Dangerous Voyage," 1633.

Johnson's "Nova Britannia," 1609; and his "New Life of Virginia," 1612.

Lescarbot's "Nouvelle France," 1609 and 1618; also Eron-delle's translation, 1609.

Thomas Morton's "New English Canaan," 1637.

Nathaniel Morton's "New England's Memorial," 1669.

Mourt's "Relation, or, Journall of the Beginning and Proceedings of the Plantation at Plimouth in New England," 1622.

Simcoe's "Journal of Operations of the Queen's Rangers," 1787.

The sale included also some first editions of great rarity and value, among them being a Hawthorne item, "The Sister Years," for the first time offered at auction. There were three privately printed Holmes items, being the same copies which were sold in the Livermore sale in 1894, a perfectly clean and spotless set of the three numbers of Lowell's short-lived literary monthly, "The Pioneer," Hawthorne's "Fanshawe," etc., etc.

The first portion of the library of the late John F. Hurst, of Washington, was sold by the Anderson Auction Co. on May 2 and 3. This included his Washington and Franklin collections, among them a number of books from Washington's library. The few which were authenticated by having Washington's own autograph on the title-page brought, generally, high prices. The most interesting and valuable piece in the collection was one of two copies sent to Washington by the editor of Washington's "Official Letters to the Honorable American Congress," London, 1795. This brought $2810. The other copy sold in Philadelphia in 1895 for $1650. The books printed by Franklin, of which the series was a long one, with numerous duplicates, sold, with a few exceptions, at moderate prices. The collection of Poor Richard Almanacks was the most numerous ever offered at auction. The earliest of these, the Almanac for 1739, brought $565.

A small but very choice collection of literary manuscripts and autograph letters belonging to Mr. George M. Williamson were sold on the evening of March 1, by the Anderson Auction Co., and a selection from the collection of the late John H. V. Arnold was sold by the same company on April 19 and 20.

Messrs. Libbie & Co., and Mr. Henkels also held important sales of autographs.

Two portions of the great collection of American Prints belonging to Hampton L. Carson, Esq., of Philadelphia, were sold by Mr. Henkels. The first portion, the collection of engraved portraits of Washington, the finest and most extensive series ever offered at auction, was sold January 21 and 22, and the second portion, comprising the portraits of Jefferson, Franklin and Lafayette, was sold April 20 and 21. These sales, of course, do not find a place in our record.

The arrangement of this volume of American Book-Prices Current is generally the same as the previous volumes. Books are entered under their author, where the author is known; otherwise, under the first important word of the title. To this there are some exceptions. Anonymous histories and biographies will usually be found under their subjects. The publications of clubs and societies are usually under the name of the society; but, occasionally, publications of some of the minor societies will be found under the name of their author. Different books by the same author are arranged alphabetically by titles, and different editions of the same books arranged according to the date of publication. Books from the Kelmscott Press, Vale Press, Essex House Press, Roycroft Press, Doves Press, and the Elston Press are entered under the headings of the Presses. The autographs are, of course, arranged alphabetically by authors.

The date given under each lot is that of the first day of the sale. The full period covered may be found by referring to the chronological list of sales following this Preface. The number in parentheses is the original lot number in the sale catalogue. Books in American auction rooms are sold by the volume, but the prices here given are for the lot, not per volume.

The abbreviations used in describing the autographs are well known to collectors. A. L. S. is Autograph Letter Signed; A. L. is Autograph Letter, unsigned; L. S. is Letter Signed, the signature only autographic; A. D. S. is Autograph Document Signed; D. S. is Document Signed.
